Aim of Youth Red Cross

The main aim of the Youth Red Cross is to develop the spirit of service, humanity, social responsibility and voluntary action among students. It encourages young people to work for the welfare of society, promote health awareness, help during emergencies and contribute to community development.

Objectives of Youth Red Cross

- 1. To promote humanitarian values such as kindness, sympathy, cooperation and service among students.
- 2. To create awareness among students about health, hygiene, sanitation and first aid.
- 3. To encourage voluntary blood donation and motivate students to save lives through social service.
- 4. To develop leadership qualities, discipline and social responsibility among youth.
- 5. To involve students in community welfare activities such as awareness rallies, plantation programmes, cleanliness drives and disaster preparedness.
- 6. To provide assistance to needy people during emergencies, natural calamities and social crises.
- 7. To create a sense of national integration, peace and brotherhood among students.
